"Every human being on this earth is born with a tragedy, and it isn't original sin. He's born with the tragedy that he has to grow up. That he has to leave the nest, the security, and go out to do battle. He has to lose everything that is lovely and fight for a new loveliness of his own making, and it's a tragedy. A lot of people don't have the courage to do it."

Helen Hayes (1900 - 1993)

To the Senior Class of 2005,

This year's theme, "X marks the spot," symbolizes the treasure that each of us have been working to achieve and the path we took to obtain it. Webster defines a treasure as "anything collected for future use; that which is very much valued." The past four years have been an exciting adventure across uncharted seas, and we should be proud to have made it this far. Our treasure hunts will continue, and we all have the power to be successful, whatever that means to each of us. However, the path to success doesn't come with a map, much less one marking the "spot." Hopefully years from now we will be able to open our 2005 yearbook and remember the adventurous voyage of our high school years at ARHS. I'll leave you with the words of Dr. Seuss: "Be who you are and say what you feel, because those who mind don't matter and those who matter don't mind."

ARHS

Ron Moyer

Ron Moyer is a talented man who has made a strong impact on the school district. He was the head of the Pupil Personnel Services Department at the Middle School, and the dean of students there for two years; he was the first dean in the Middle School. Growing up, Mr. Moyer played basketball at Northeast High in Philadelphia and later became the girls' varsity basketball coach at Amherst. He continued coaching for 19 years, winning the championship in '93. Ron Moyer has been a teacher and a guidance counselor for many years in this school district. When asked what he was planning to do after leaving, he said he had no specific plans. After 34 years in public education, he said he was ready for a change. Whatever he decides to do, he will surely continue to make people laugh with his quick wit, and friendly personality.

Benton Minks

Benton Minks' 32 1/2 years here at ARHS have been worth every minute. Originally from Indiana, Mr. Minks taught there for four years before he moved to Amherst to attend graduate school at UMass. One of the main reasons for choosing Amherst was his interest in teaching books that are not traditionally taught in High Schools, and the high academic standards of the school. To Mr. Minks, teaching is more important than any amount of money. "I just liked what I was doing, I liked teaching, I liked working with teenagers and still do, and it was more important to me than bringing in a paycheck." Mr. Minks has in the past worked on writing of his own and would like to do more co-writing with his wife. Mr. Minks' sole reason for leaving his position here at the high school is in search of something new.

Howard David

Howard David opens every class with a new joke which brings smiles to everyone's face. Mr. David grew up in Rochester, New York and moved to Northampton in 1970 because of a job in Springfield. After three years there, he came to Amherst. According to David this was a nice change after working in the inner city. A large influence in David's decision to become a teacher was his 11th grade math teacher. This allowed David to realize that teaching was the job for him. Mr. David has started to take up woodworking, a hobby he intends to continue after retiring. He also intends to travel more and spend more time with his children. When asked why he was leaving he said, "After 35 years I'm still having fun; I didn't want to wait until it stopped being fun to stop teaching."

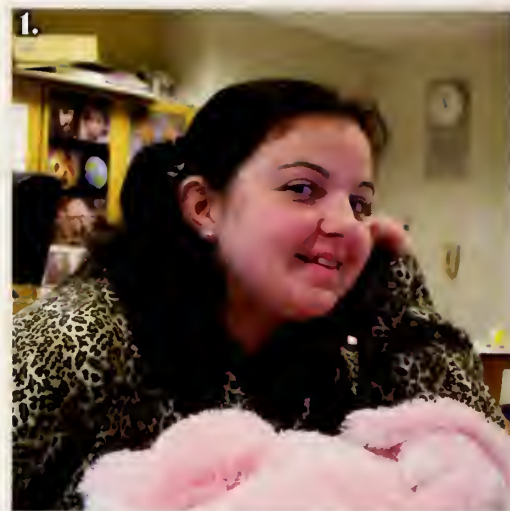

Carole Schweid

For 29 years Carole Schweid has been an important part of the High School from social studies to sorting out schedules. Born and raised in Brooklyn, Ms. Schweid moved to Haydenville in 1973 and worked as a travel agent. She soon realized that teaching and working with kids were her true calling in life. Of all the schools in the area, she said she chose to work at Amherst because it is "a community that is rich and diverse culturally... I wanted my children to go to school here." The opportunity to develop new curriculum has always appealed to her, and she loves working with kids. Ms. Schweid's options as to what she will do next are limitless. "I'm looking for an adventure" responded Ms. Schweid with a smile.

MC Battle

"WORD TO YO' MAMA"

On Friday, December 17, 2004, an emcee competition was hosted by the senior class. To spark more interest, the battle was expanded to incorporate a dance-off and a DJ spin-off along with the MC battle. It became the Battle of Battles, and after a rousing announcement over the PA system, eight students signed up to battle, and drew about 500 people to the NMS auditorium. The DJ spin-off did not happen, and the dance-off consisted three dancers taking turns rocking out to the music. The final battle between Garret "Fresh Cuts" Daly and Christopher "Tiz Daddy" Sesualdi ended with a victorious Daly taking home the prize.

If you don't know it already, Amherst Volleyball had a great season with a 17-6 record, and ended up competing in the finals for Western Mass! We shouldn't be surprised. Our strong season was merely the natural outcome that happens when a team like Amherst is on the court. What kind of team were we? We were a team that agreed that if you didn't come to the game pumped up and on fire, you weren't doing your job. We were a team that agreed on a subconscious level that we would never give up. We were a team whose body may have been on the court, but whose heart was just as present on the bench, among those players that were cheering us out of tight spots and into victory. Truly, our spirit was what carried us to the W. Mass finals. We played many a team that was equal in skill level, but as Amherst got louder, they would get quieter. Several times we have been approached by the opposing team's coach, who said how much they admired our positive spirit. Amherst has not had a volleyball team this strong for many years. To the eight departing seniors we would like to say: years from now, always remember that ace, or that perfect dig you had, but remember more the cheers and the high fives- the indomitable spirit of Canes Volleyball! -The Captains: Tara McNemey and Nashalie Vasquez

It's been an awesome four years. Thanks, gals, for all the memories. For special Saturdays and busrides home and van drivers and butterflies and teddy bears and movies and massages and leotards and lactards and cheering so loud they'd swear we won for third and going out for ice cream in the middle of the snow and sleepovers and spidey and shower songs and breaking bars and special pink strips of velvet. and stolen buses and rikiki pomeplous and elmo and blond moments and pileups and relay races and egg rolls and chalk games and midnights stargazing and snow in October and yelling at football players and brownies and candles and white cheddar Cheez-Its and having heart and 67 rolls of tape per capita per year and hair spray and brokenness and dying stereos and all the things we love about us. And if it hurts, don't do it :-) because Gymnasts kick! Love, your captains,

Pack it up, pack it in, let me begin... This season was a doozie. One word to sum it up... ADVERSITY. Our record doesn't show how well we played, or how hard we worked as a team. Our motivation and positive attitude earned us the "Spirit Award" created this year specially for our team. We will miss the GVS sleepovers, the bras, lipstick, chalk, shaving cream, interskate & the Dance Dance revolution! I love to Derek and the family, we would not have been able to do it without all their support. Thank you also to the parents for never giving up. To the freshmen, sorry about that little name problem we had.

We will never forget you! Love, Jo and... Jo and... Jo and... Jude, Northey, & M.D.L.A

The 2004 football season was one of the best in Hurricane history. Nine points, including an unfortunate missed field goal against rival Northampton were the only reasons the 'Canes did not go undefeated. Finishing 8-2, the 'Canes overpowered their opponents with their high octane offense led by first year senior quarterback Matt Petrides, and the dynamic duo of running backs, senior Ray Phillips (8 TDs), and junior Alphonsus Aguh (15 TDs). John Higginson (30 catches) and Elijah Bynum (6 TDs) spearheaded the receiving core with 9 touchdowns and 800 yards between them.

The Hurricane-defense also known as "The Blackshirts" was considered by many to be the best in Western Mass and arguably the best in the state. The defense let up 66 points, a conference best, caused 41 turnovers and held four teams scoreless. The defense was quick, strong and athletic, led by Anthony Rouzier (178 tackles, 4 interceptions) and a consistent linebacking core of seniors John Higginson (107 tackles) and Luke Nugent (55 tackles). The D line was anchored by seniors Victor Rodriguez, Haniy Carr, and Michael Simpson, who caused havoc in the backfield all season. The secondary was led by third year starter Elijah Bynum (4 interceptions), along with Paul Harchick, and Aguh. This team will be remembered for years to come by many from around the Amherst community.

NGL -this season was awesome! From day one in the New Hampshire hills, we knew we were champions. Keeping the trend, we had more ups than downs this year, winning our 10th straight Western Mass. Championship, and achieving our ultimate goal of climbing the chair! (It was a really big chair!!) Though there was no NC dancing this year, we kept it alive with scarf-action, bad jokes, and X-treme cheering. We run fast, we livestrong, we listen to Ashlee Simpson, we live each other up, and oh, we are still State Champions!

It feels almost impossible to sum up this incredible season in one paragraph, but we'll start at the beginning. Even though we didn't have a coach to start, we stuck it out and finally found Sam, who pulled it all together. This was an amazing season, holding some of the best teams in our league to tie games, including Greenfield, Minnechaug, Southwick, and Mohawk. Most importantly, we knew what it meant to really "want it" this season, following Sam's endless words of wisdom, and our powerful team energy. Not only were we extremely close on the field, putting our all into every practice and game, but we really felt like sisters on the field. We have so many great memories! Polar Bear vs. VDubs, pasta parties, "bowling," that crazy scavenger hunt weekend... We'll always cherish our closeness, our laughter, and our tears. Don't forget, "You have to want it, with every drop of blood, bone, and fiber in you." Good luck, girls! The future of Amherst Field Hockey is so bright... Our hearts will always be with this team, we love you all.

Love always from your captains, and thank you for making our last season our best.

The start of the season proved to be much better than last year. Throughout the first half of the season we hovered around a .500 record. Although a .500 record is respectable, the captains did not want to have a close race to make playoffs. Therefore the team, under the brawny and burly leadership of captains Eddie Kim, Jack Cherewatti, and Benjamin Klock, started to turn their play up a notch. The team had many new faces this year, and several would have to contribute to make the season a success. The captains sat down with these players and expressed the importance of focusing on every shot. While the captains focused on physical and emotional aspects of the game, Brad Bell helped the team with the mental part. He single-handedly turned the golf team members in to Rubix Cube wizards, greatly improving our hand eye coordination and determination. This was displayed at the Western Mass Championship when Scott Serwa tied for first with a career low round of 75, the first time a Hurricane golfer qualified for States.

Football season was a time of change for us, with very few returning members, but plenty of new talented and spirited girls. With new coaches and new captains we grew together like sisters. Being grounded (no fliers) for almost 3 weeks didn't stop us. Our inside jokes too many to name and when we are apart it's never the same but when we're together is nothing but fun replacing these girls just can't be done. To the nine of us that lasted through the whole season; we have endured practices, numerous games, and injuries. From trying to make up new cheers, lol, and keeping the old, "We're Amherst Canes, we show no shame and don't you wish you had our game." We have shown so much dedication. "Is it worth it, let us work, we put our game down flip it and reverse it, it's y'all against us canessay what!" Freestyling rhymes with the football players. "You ain't got beat, can't take our heat that's why you be on J.V. so take a seat! KEEP YOUR HEAD UP GURLIES---remember cheerleaders are like angels, we're the only humans that can fly. Best of luck next season, I'll miss y'all much. Mis Timberlake

In a season expected to be a rebuilding year because of major losses to graduation, the Basketball team kept alive the notion that tradition never graduates. Starting off with a record of 10-0 was a feat in itself; we were the first team in Western Massachusetts to qualify for the postseason tournament. We stumbled a bit coming down the stretch, but managed a 16-4 record. During the season, we pulled off exciting wins at Commerce, Longmeadow and an overtime game at Central. In the playoffs, we fell short against Longmeadow at Amherst College. Lefrak Gymnasium was packed with our ravenous fans. Thus our season ended with a 16-5 record. This year's Varsity team left a mark with our hustle, hard-nosed defense, rebounding and lights-out shooting. We held over half of the teams we played under 50 points for the game. The 2004-2005 Boy's Varsity team was led by a solid core of seniors headed by Captain Ande "Space Man" Bustamante. The other seniors were Matt "Petro" Petrides, "Big Play" Ray Phillips, Nick "Ultimate" Walkowicz and Gabe "The Juice" Gonzalez-Kreisberg. '05 left a mark on the ARHS boy's basketball program, but to the members of '06 and '07—Roc—the Dynasty Continues... Gabriel Gonzalez-Kreisberg '05

The season began great with a large number of athletes trying out for the Ski Team. We made it through a tough dry land season. That proved to be beneficial when it came time for our races and brought us closer together as a team. With both the girls and boys teams in A division, it was a competitive year, but we managed to stay strong and focused while having a fun and memorable season. Congratulations to Blake, Cassie and Kelly for qualifying for states as individuals. Thanks to the coaches, Pete, Bill and Carol for your time and hard work. Good luck to the team in the upcoming years, keep the Chinese downhill tradition alive! From your captains, Kelly, Sierra, Eli, Andrew and Jon. '05

Despite the looks of their record, the Amherst Wrestling team had some serious talent this year-accompanied by some unanticipated bad luck. With their full line up, the team was equally as powerful as last years, who won the league championship for the first time in the Amherst Wrestling program's history. This year, Amherst's starting line-up had the potential to do just the same and began defeating its neighboring teams one by one. However, with all the snow days and continuous injuries, the teams record dwindled away to forfeited matches. Repeatedly, Amherst had to start each meet 18 points down. Regardless of this, the team, headed by former coach Randy Stone and last year's Middle School head coach Kelly Olanyk, wrestled out the season more or less contently. In the end, the team cheered from the stands as they watched Amherst wrestler Jacob Jones, a senior and captain of the team, win Western-Mass at 189 pounds.

This was one "silly" season. As a result of excellent coaching, everyone achieved multiple PRs. We also had many fun times during practice and outside of the pool. Hopefully, the pool will survive the certain contests taken place in it. We'll never forget the IM dance, crazy bowling costumes, cankles, the unfortunate stair incident (a little too close to Western Mass), Steph's rage, "is that my sauce or is that my sauce?", the only guy with blonde moments and comrows, and the first year of warming down after meets! Thanks everyone for a great season! Mee-ow Mee-ow! "That's Hot!"

Thanks to the dually-talented divers, we were able to have some fast relays this year. Although we were a small team of mostly beginners, we managed to develop our talent throughout the season. After losing huge numbers of seniors last year, this was a rebuilding year. This fall we had one returning staffer, so we recruited seven of sophomores to fill the ranks, much to the amusement of our ten seniors. Our ambitions ran high this year, with thirteen customized page icons, new layouts for every section, and baby photos next to the senior portraits. And we finally had artists on staff! Lots of them! Our condolences to the class of '04 for not having a pirate theme last year.

Special thanks go out to the clerical staff for all the lists, our advertisers, Mr. Larcheveque's & period study for folding and stapling 1,300 order forms, Mr. Gralinski, Harrison, Moriarty, and Bond for putting up with our mess. Good luck to the class of '05. Thanks to Matt and everyone at Jostens.

It's rather fitting we had to redo this page from scratch because Mr. Larcheveque deleted it accidentally. The theme of the first-ever winter trimester yearbook class was "redoing." Josh redid our cover and many pirate titles. Don't ask us why. We retook the '05 senior photo, and then Ross did some great "handy" work on it. Ali redid the index...about five times. This trimester was quite a busy one. We finished the senior section, fall sports, underclasspeople, faculty, winter sports, clubs, faculty, and oh, that joyous index. Producing a yearbook is not unlike a treasure hunt, there's always one more person to identify or photo to take. Are we all here? Can we take our photo now?

Thanksgiving

"IT'S ALL GRAVY"

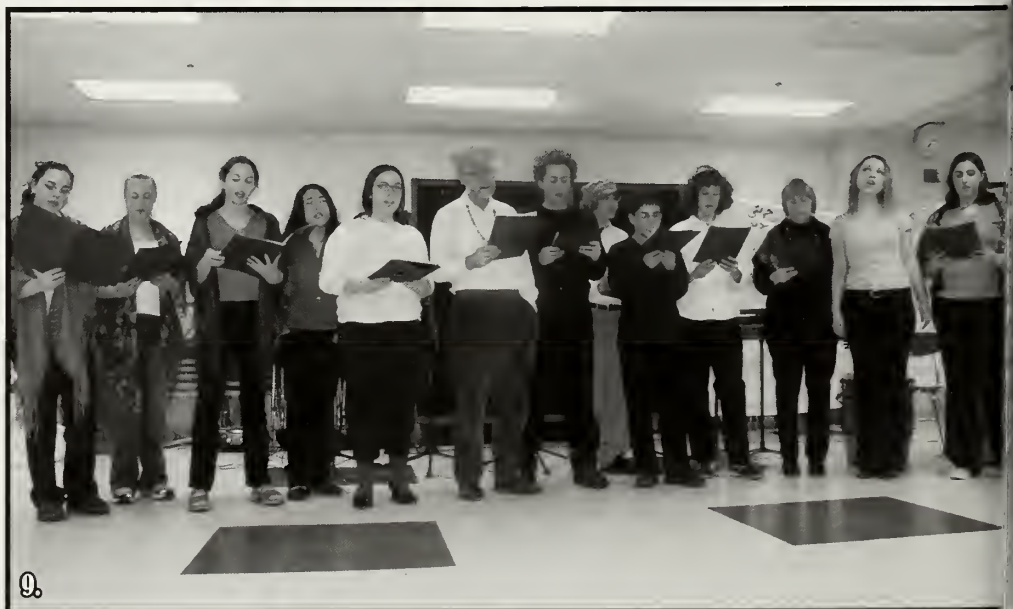

On Friday, November 12th, kids and staff along with families and friends - almost 200 - had a major dinner party in the festively decorated cafeteria. People from different parts of the school community don't always get the opportunity to meet each other. Our Thanksgiving Celebration gives us a chance to share a festive meal together and enjoy the wonderful diversity of performance put together by our friends and neighbors.

Every year, we are delighted by the surprising combinations of foods and festivities. This year, along with school favorites the Drill Team, the Russian Club Choir and the Bomba Ensemble, we had a special treat: a performance by visiting students from our sister school in Petrozavodsk, Russia.

Field Day

"CROQUET IS OKAY!"

It was awesome, the tension, victory so close you could burst into tears, you'd think you were in a soap opera," said Charlie Torray, recalling the overwhelming feelings that he experienced during the intense games at Field Day. A particular hostility between the sophomores and seniors emerged, with almost equal numbers of fans at the Flag football event, the seniors won by two blue shirts. Through rain and drastic conditions the freshmen battled it out with the sophomores, although the freshmen tried to distract the sophomores with a flashy show of their gymnastic talents, in the end the sophomores prevailed. The juniors, looking intimidating in their black attire, were in fact dominated by the seniors in blue. After rushing the plate, and defending their upperclassman pride throughout three extra innings, the seniors lost the game of wiffle ball. The humiliating loss of the wiffle ball game gave the seniors extra incentive during kickball, and grossly outnumbered, the seniors came back showed the sophomore class. When asked why he enjoyed the game of croquet, Ben Paus-Weiler said, "God, I love those balls and mallets". The sophomore team they were playing against lost "pretty badly". Controversy in every event, representing true Amherst spirit.

Evan,

This year has been the toughest of your life and of our lives. All of us always knew, however, that, in the spirit of what has always defined you since childhood, you'd peddle and scream, you'd ride and fly, you'd build and socialize, you'd talk, smile and study your way to good health and the wonderful future that we know you will build for yourself. May the years ahead be full of the joys that were largely denied to you during your senior year of high school, although your illness could never mar the wonderful academic accomplishments that make us so proud of you.

With love and admiration,

Mom and Dad

MAKING A GREAT COMMUNITY

better.

- Cooley Dickinson is a community hospital. Our patients are our family members, friends and neighbors.
- We offer advanced technology in areas such as MRI, cancer imaging and mammography.
- It's our responsibility to connect our patients with the best care at Cooley Dickinson and elsewhere when needed.
- We take a larger role than most community hospitals, going beyond treating the sick and injured here in the hospital to creating and supporting community programs.
- We are a great hospital in a region that attracts great health care providers.
- We focus on both care (clinical and technological capabilities) and caring (looking after our patients) by increasing the number of skilled professionals at the bedside.

Our track season was superb. We started out strong, working well as team. We struggled at some meets against Minnechaug but excelled in others. Unfortunately we came in second at Western Mass but we enjoyed our cohesive bonding experience. We have some great underclassman here to take our place once the seniors leave.- Miles Gaddy

This year was awesome! We started training individually long before the snow melted and began the season by beating our annual rivals for the first time in a while: the coed Middle School travel team. The captains Dory Ziperstein, Emily Baecher, and Spring Greeney kept us in shape with new drills and lots of burpies, while Rosa Neff, Sophie Herscu, Julie Greene, and Kiersten Mailler added more depth to our team of 12 returners. Towards the end of our season, things just got better and better. We got invited to a college tournament, Lemony Fresh, which we ended up winning! At our home tournament, the Amherst Invitational, we asserted our dominance with a 15-10 win in the finals over the Seattle team that beat us at Nationals in 2004 in Oregon. The next weekend we became Eastern champions in Pittsburgh defeating Brutal Grassburn from Tennessee 15-8. We finished off our season by beating Dartmouth and MIT, two of the three college teams from the East Coast that went to college nationals. And let's not forget the two final, epic days of practice: in two games of '05 vs. not '05 (everyone else), seniors got to end it all with two victories.

This past year we started out strong. We were 6-0 but we began to struggle and we went to 2-7. The first teams we were playing were in the lower division so it was basically an easy win. We played some hard teams such as Longmeadow and Westfield. We were good team-mates with good relationships as friends, but when it came down to business we struggled. I'll never forget our first game against Westfield. We were down 3-2 at the bottom of the 7th and had one person on base. Matt Petrides was up to bat and he hit a home run down to the war memorial kiddie pool. Overall I would have to say our season was spectacular!

Our season was great this year. We came together as a team and we really enjoyed playing with each other. We had lots of fun! We learned life long lessons about teamwork and cooperation. We are a team that is definitely going to improve next year with our outstanding young pitcher Abby Fuhman. I know the JV team has been working really hard and I'm confident that they can carry the torch. Although our senior players will be replaced by our fellow teammates next year, we will be with the team in spirit!!!

It's fair to say that the 2005 season went smoothly. The team was diverse, ranging from a powerful freshmen class to a dream-team senior roster. With two All-Americans captains contributing to the team's success, the team cruised to a 14-5 record. Although the playoffs ended abruptly in the Western Mass semi-finals, the season will be a milestone in Amherst's lacrosse history. Many of the seniors are going on to play college lacrosse. Amherst beat the Minnechaug Falcons, the 2005 state champions, in the regular season which exemplified Amherst's success and potential. 3 players were 1st-team Western mass, while 2 players made the 2nd-team western mass cut. With powerful defense and Brad Bell creating the "Great Wall of South Africa," Amherst was a tough team to face. The Canes had one of the best goals-allowed records in Western Mass. Kristof Holm of '06 says, "Although we lost 15 seniors, the program will not stagger or decline in performance." Jake Jones' quote lives on in the spirit of the lacrosse team: "Pain is temporary, glory is forever."
